Contact Information	Amber Reed-Davis 927 South 2 nd Street Louisville, KY 40203 (502) 581-7259
AFI Grant Amount	$195,500
Nonfederal Support	$475, 901
Project Period	February 1, 2006 - January 31, 2011
Highlights	The Common Wealth IDA Program will expand its existing AFI-supported program by offering 85 new homeownership IDAs to low-income participants at a match rate of $2 to $1. Participants will take courses to learn about asset building, budgeting, banking, credit, and topics related to home purchase.
Target Population	Low-income families in the Kentucky counties of Jefferson, Trimble, Henry, Bullitt, Spencer, Shelby, and Oldham.
Grantee/Collaborative Description	The Center for Women and Families, originally founded in 1912, currently serves low-income individuals in Kentucky and southern Indiana. CWIDA, a community-wide collaboration involving many partner organizations, was first funded by AFI in 1999. For this new grant, the Center for Women and Families will provide the financial counseling and project oversight, while the Kentucky Housing corporation will provide the nonfederal cash contribution. National City Bank is the financial institution partner.
